

Liquid Galaxy Project

Section for ideas:

- I personally don't know about other continents but, in my opinion, in Europe, travelling is a must. The website can have a section where you select a country and receive a well defined travelling tour with monuments, buildings, landscapes etc.
- As an example I will relate to the "Experiences" section on the Airbnb website. It offers several opportunities and activities that can be done in a specific country or city. From boat trips, to museum tours, the possibilities are endless. TripAdvisor also have a nice working sections for presenting monuments, historical buildings, natural reserves and even parks.
- Another section can include a "how to" guide for installing and playing on the multi-display setup created by Liquid Galaxy. Just like the task for Google AIY Voice Kit, with steps and tools you need, it will definitely attract more users to try the experience.

- Another nice idea will be to make a gallery with students work. For example, in Google Code-In a lot of tasks included building 3D models, and will be nice to see them highlighted somehow.
- My biggest question was: “How a Liquid Galaxy office looks like and how is the environment inside, with all the people working and collaborating?”. In this case, I would love to see a nice section with photos from offices around the world and employees telling their stories and experiences from the inside of the building.
